Flat Stanley's Adventures in China Cheryl Scholings 2010-11 Dear Readers, I sincerely hope that you enjoy reading this book as much as I did writing it. It has truly been a blessing to bear witness of God's protection, mercy and grace throughout Jerry's life. I believe his life was spared countless times, not only because God knew much of what a blessing he would be to Cooper and I, but also in order that his testimony could inspire others. God is no respector of persons. What a privilege it has been to get to know and love Jerry and experience God's love through his life. It is my prayer that you will be blessed by reading this book.

of humiliation and cruelty and how his experiences as the sole Chinese American member of the most decorated Texan unit of any war shaped his later life. The Life and Adventures of Nat Love

Nat Love 1888 Thousands of black cowpokes drove cattle up the Chisholm Trail after the Civil War, but only Nat Love wrote about his experiences. Born to slaves in Davidson County, Tennessee, the newly freed Love struck out for Kansas after the war. He was fifteen and already endowed with a reckless and romantic readiness. In wide-open Dodge City he joined up with an outfit from the Texas Panhandle to begin a career riding the range and fighting Indians, outlaws, and the elements. Years later he would say, “I had an unusually adventurous life.” That was rare. Nat Love was so frightened that he closed his eyes and covered them with his hands. He could not bear to watch. When six-year old Ruthie, embarked on an adventure with her grandfather, she got more than she bargained for. Her grandfather, magically transformed into a six-year old bird, is as stodgy as an old man. Nat Love
